UKCA requirements for LAPP products

Dear customers,

We want to inform you about the requirements for the British market and the introduction of the UKCA mark by the British government.

- Nothing changes for the time being, normative requirements remain the same for the British market as for the European market for the time being.
- The CE mark will be accepted for our products until 31.12.2021 for the UK market
- From 1 Jan 2022 the new UKCA mark will be valid, which will also be accepted in 2021 already
- At present, some questions, including legal questions and questions about responsibilities, have not yet been fully resolved and need to be clarified by the authorities.
- Lapp has these developments in mind and will implement the necessary documentation for UKCA conformity and labelling as soon as final decisions are available.
- But this much can already be said: The labelling of our products will only be on the packaging labels and not on the products.

Your sincerely
