To our customers & business partners

Customer information: Current situation - Coronavirus

Dear customers,
dear business partners,

the outbreak of the COVID-19 virus is again affecting Germany to an even greater extent. Especially its intensity and fast spreading makes it difficult to make a serious forecast about possible restrictions of our business activities.

For LAPP, the health of our employees as well as the supply of our customers continues to have the highest priority. Therefore, we would like to inform you that our ability to supply is currently unrestricted - also due to our own plants, our depth of product range and our diversified procurement structures using a second-source strategy.

Nevertheless, delays in workflows cannot always be avoided in such an exceptional situation. Due to influences such as a shortage of raw materials or logistical bottlenecks, it is not always possible to meet binding delivery dates. We ask for your understanding in this regard.

We are convinced that we will master this challenging phase together with you!
You can reach your contact persons and business partners under the known contact options.

Stay healthy!
